ITB BERLIN 2020

Floorplan 27
Opening hours 27
In March 2020, ITB Berlin, the world’s leading travel trade fair, opens its doors for visitors from around the world. Import Promotion Desk (IPD) will present tourism companies from Ecuador, Tunisia and Nepal with their travel products. European tour operators can meet sustainable tourism suppliers from our selected emerging and developing countries.

Ecuador will be introduced as a nature-orientated and active destination with high touristic potential. Volcanic mountain landscapes, vast bathing beaches, the original Amazon region with its indigenous people, the city of Cuenca, and the well-known Galapagos Islands – Ecuador has a large variety of attractions for sustainable tourism.

Wedged between the Himalayas and the vast plains of India, Nepal is a land of intoxicating natural beauty and spirituality that has a lot to offer: From hiking in the most iconic mountain region in the world to strolling through the ancient squares of Kathmandu or spotting tigers and Indian elephants in the southern national parks.

Tunisia has a lot of surprising tourist attractions and things to do for those that venture off the sandy shores: Sahara dunes surrounding oasis retreats, mammoth ancient ruins, and charming Berber villages. Tunisia is also the country with some of the region’s most beautiful examples of Islamic architecture.

All our presented service providers are thoroughly evaluated and have been trained in the requirements of the EU travel market. On the following pages you will find detailed information about these recommended tourism businesses.

The IPD establishes direct contact to them and organizes B2B meetings at the trade fair.
The IPD is your partner for sustainable tourism.

We act as a hinge between European tour operators and tourism service providers in selected emerging and developing countries.

Both sides benefit from their cooperation with the IPD. Travel providers in developing countries receive support from the IPD for the improvement and quality management of their touristic products and services. Of benefit to tour operators in Germany and throughout Europe is the qualitative pre-selection of reliable tourism service providers in our partner countries.

With the IPD, you cut costs for the time-consuming and staff-intensive search for suitable service providers as well as for the quality control of products. We assist you in identifying suitable travel providers in Ecuador, Nepal and Tunisia.

Our services for you are neutral and free of charge.

In promoting sustainable tourism, the IPD supports its partner countries in developing their infrastructures, creating jobs, and increasing incomes. As a labour-intensive segment, the tourist sector makes an important contribution towards sustainable economic development.

The IPD is an initiative of the Federation of German Wholesale, Foreign Trade and Services (BGA) and sequa, the development organisation and partner of German business. We are funded by the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ).

You can find detailed information about the IPD and our individual services at www.importpromotiondesk.de.

Tunisia Ecotourism was founded in 2015 and is located in Bizerta, the home of the most northern cape of Africa. Bizerta is a key town of Tunisia which holds hidden Mediterranean stretches of sandy shores, the green hills of the eastern end of the Atlas mounts, the fertile valleys of Wadi Mejradah as well as salt lakes and a world heritage natural park.

They commit themselves to socio-economic and environmental responsibility. The eco-stays they offer are built around a shared benefit basis. They help each community they visit in maintaining their ecotouristic micro-business (Ecobuilding, handcraft, sustainable fishing, etc.). In addition, they provide advice on making the impact of their clients’ visit on the local culture mutually beneficial. Furthermore, Tunisia Ecotourism adopts the locals’ lifestyle: each item has multiple functions, there is no waste and limited natural resources such as wood and water are used with care.
